Over 15 Years Service To The Collector

We want to be your full service dealer!

OLD FASHIONED COIN HOARD DISCOVERED!

We were fortunate to have purchased a hoard of over 7,000 coins last week. The following is a selection from this new purchase. As they were all stored in the old fashioned 2x2 paper envelopes, many of the coins, especially the higher grades, are toned to some degree. So, unless otherwise stated, please be advised of this fact. But, check out these prices!! We must move out as many of these new coins as possible in order to make room for yet another collection we are currently negotiating for!...And to show we mean business, we will knock another 5% off out already deep discounted prices on all orders over $100.!!

School type

I found your recent articles on Israeli commemoratives informative and interesting. I have a question about the Israeli 10-pound 1970 commemorative for the 22nd anniversary of Mikveh Israel School.

What type of school is Mikveh Israel? Trade, technical, university, etc.? Some history or information would be appreciated.

R. Small
Address Withheld

Editor's note: The coin actually commemorates the 22nd anniversary of the State of Israel. It is dedicated to the centenary of Mikveh Israel, the first agricultural school in Eretz, Israel. It was founded in 1870 by the Alliance Israelite Universelle. (Source: Israel's Money and Medals 1948-1973.)

Boxing Canada gold

I am hoping you will research a question I have in mind.

The Royal Canadian Mint is offering a brown velvet case to display the 10 $100 gold coins and their certificates which have been issued over the past 10 years.

However, their brochure only pictures the outside of the case, and their literature makes no mention as to how the coins are housed. The first two years, 1976 and 1977, the coins were not encapsulated; however, all of the following years the coins were encapsulated.

Will the first two years' coins fit into the case indentations without any encapsulation, while the other eight years fit into indentations designed to hold encapsulated coins? Or must we take the coins for the last eight years out of their encapsulation before they fit the holes? Or will encapsulations be provided with the case in which to encase the '76 and '77 coins?

readers' soapbox

James T. Cowan
Arlington, Texas

Editor's note: According to the Royal Canadian Mint's Danielle Savard-Gregoire, the case comes with five capsules to hold 1976-1980 coins. The picture illustrates the case. It costs $10 from the Royal Canadian Mint, 355 River Road, Vanier, Ontario K1A 0G8, Canada.

Dicken question

The Question Forum in the April 30 issue contained a question asking if such a coin as a "dicken" existed.

I am a collector of St. Gallen (Swiss) abbey and city coins. Please, for the sake of accuracy, fostering interest in St. Gallen issues, or perhaps just to humor me, correct your answer.

The city of St. Gallen issued dickens dated 1500, 1501, 1503, 1504, 1505, 1509, 1511, 1513, 1618, 1619, 1619 (klippe), 1620, 1620 (klippe), 1631, and 1633, and half dickens dated 1618, 1619, 1620, 1620 (klippe), 1621, 1621 (klippe), 1622, 1622 (klippe), and 1624.

All depict an attractive bear, standing, facing left. These are HMZ (Helvetischke Munzkatalog) Nos. 705, 716 and 717.

Still, I am tickled at the amount of interesting detail Mr. Herbert finds.

THE RAREST COINS OF THE DECADE

The France 1984 "Walking Liberty" Pure Platinium Matte Proof Piefort Coins

Final Mintage: 5 Coins Each

YOU CAN OWN ONE IF YOU ACT NOW

France's coinage designs represent centuries of artistic triumph for her culture. Indeed, France has made major contributions to the numismatic art, and her currency has been widely copied by the mints of many nations, including the United States. The wide usage of Classic figures in U.S. coinage design is largely due to the influence of French coins. Elegantly conveying France's love of liberty, the beautiful French coins are truly expressive mementoes of the unity of ideals and friendship long shared by France and America. In fact, French coin designs have been used as models for some of the most popular U.S. coins ever issued!

The U.S. "Walking Liberty" Half Dollar design is an excellent example. Issued from 1916 to 1947, this famous design is strikingly similar to the obverse of the Half, One, Two and Five Francs. Featuring Liberty walking left with the rising sun in the background, this historic design first appeared on French coinage in 1897!

The principal characteristics of these superb and unusual coins are as follow:

—Double-struck as Matte Proof on double-thick coin blank as Piefort, these are official "Coins-of-Record" of the French Republic.

—Struck in Pure Platinum, a precious metal that is 14-times rarer than gold.

—A quality of production that is second to none. In addition to its use of very pure precious metals, and its perfectly precise coining, the French State Mint is also distinguished by its unique process of mould-engraving. In contrast with all other mints, which engrave coins sides in a format larger than their finished size and then reduce them mechanically, the coins produced by the French State Mint are engraved in their real size. They are thus true art objects, produced without the use of mechanical processes.

—These coins are part of a tradition that goes back several hundreds years ago. . .to the end of the 12th. Century when they were used to test new coinage dies. The outstanding design specimens that resulted from the tests were distributed by the King to loyal supporters of the Throne. Because the mintages were so minuscule, Pieforts were coveted by commoners as well as gentry. Continuing the 700-year tradition, Piefort coinage is struck for the Monetary Museum and for the numismatists only.

—Since the last 10 years, the demand has been so high that more than 30 countries (including Great Britain, Liberia, Jamaica. . .) issued Piefort coins. But only in France is this coinage a tradition.

—BUT MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL IS THAT ONLY FIVE COINS OF EACH DENOMINATION WERE STRUCK; yes, the final mintage for each of these coins is of only 5. A numbered certificate from the French State Mint attesting to this EXCEPTIONAL and FINAL mintage is enclosed with each coin. These are among the RAREST COINS ever issued by any countries in any metal.

Such coins, when available, usually have a price tag in the five or even six figures. After all, only 5 people in the whole world can own one of these superb rarities. Are these priced at $100,000? or $50,000? or $10,000? You now have the opportunity to buy such a coin for approximately $1,000:

Worldwide K-rand sales drop

news

Worldwide Krugerrand sales tumbled 83 percent in April, but there is disagreement over whether increased U.S. pressure on South Africa is the reason.

According to the May 3 Wall Street Journal, sales of the South African gold coins — two-thirds of which are export sales in the United States — fell to 44,137 ounces from 255,192 ounces the year before.

The Journal attributed the decline largely increased anti-Krugerrand publicity and congressional efforts to impose some sort of Krugerrand ban.

The pressure has taken many forms. In Los Angeles, Mayor Tom Bradley proposed a set of municipal laws that would impose a special tax on South African gold coins. In Washington, the offices of bullion and coin dealers Deak-Perera were occupied in a sit-in led by District of Columbia Congressional Delegate Walter E. Fauntroy and district Mayor Marion Berry.

The U.S. congresional pressure is not abating, either. By a 28-6 margin, the House Foreign Affairs Committee approved a bill that would ban U.S. Krugerrand sales, prohibit nearly all loans to the South African government, bar U.S. investment there, and stop export sales of computer goods and technology.

According to a committee aide, the entire House will probably approve the bill before the end of the month. Furthermore, the House Banking Committee has told the Foreign Affairs Committee it will let the bill go to the House floor without holding separate hearings.

In 1983, when the House approved a similar set of sanctions, the Senate failed to take action. This time around, however, things may be different.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is considering a bill that would impose sanctions — including a Krugerrand ban — if significant process toward ending apartheid isn't made by March 1987.

The Senate panel is expected to vote on the package within several weeks, though a House-Senate compromise version is unlikely anytime soon.

Under the House committee bill, the Krugerrand ban, along with the investment ban, could be lifted by the White House if certain key elements of apartheid were dismantled.

However, the Krugerrand's international distributor played down the role negative publicity and the threat of congressional action may have had in the coin's recent sales tumble.

An unnamed source at International Gold Corp. attributed the weak sales to "dishoarding" — Krugerrand investors liquidating their stocks — in Europe and the Far East.

"Beyond that, the market is generally not conducive to movement at this time," the source said.

According to the source, Intergold does not break down its sales figures by country or region because of the international aftermarket and dealer/broker transactions.

Australia, Austria, the Cook Islands, Finland, and the Soviet Union are among the countries releasing 1985-dated sets. The Australian set includes the $1 bronze kangaroo coin and the Austrian set includes the 20-schilling Linz diocese issue. The Russian releases come in addition to two commemorative roubles marking the 40th anniversary of victory in World War II and the 115th anniversary of Lenin's birth.

Switzerland is preparing to issue a 10-franc coin beginning in 1990. The coin would be struck with a cupronickel border and an Alubronze body. Its size would be between the present two- and five-franc coins. (Courtesy G.R. Gruber, Vaduz, Liechtenstein.)

Brazil, reacting to double-digit monthly inflation rates, has approved issuing a 100,000-cruzeiro bank note. The largest bank note in circulation, a 50,000-cruziero note, was issued last year. Since then, the cruziero has gone through several devaluations.

Canada awaits small dollar coin decision

By Robert Aaron

Canada's House of Commons Standing Committee on Miscellaneous Estimates has now finished its hearings on the need for a new, circulating $1 coin in the country.

Representations to the committee were made by many groups and corporations, including the Bank of Canada, the Royal Canadian Mint, the Canadian Automatic Merchandising Association, Sherritt Gordon, INCO, two bank-note companies, the Canadian Bankers Association, and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

The committee is scheduled to report to Parliament by June 14, and the politicians will then decide whether Canada is to have a dollar coin, whether any of its seigniorage should underwrite the 1988 Olympics in Calgary, and whether the coin should circulated alongside the existing dollar bill.

Of lesser concern to the committee but of major interest to collectors is the fate of the voyageur canoe design, which currently appears on the reverse of Canada's nickel dollar. If Canada introduces a smaller, circulating dollar, the larger non-circulating nickel dollar will be discontinued, and along with it, the 50-year-old design by Emanuel Hahn will also disappear.

Voyageur: Will it stay or go?

If the dollar coin is approved, the federal cabinet will have to decide what design will appear on it.

In its submission to the committee, the Royal Canadian Mint suggested five possible options for the coin's reverse: the present canoe design; the Canadian coat of arms, which appears on the 50-cent piece; a new, typically Canadian wildlife scene, such as a loon, or the moose or bighorn sheep on the 1985 commemoratives; the scene on the back of the $1 bank note or part of it, such as the Library of Parliament or Parliament itself; or a possible Olympic theme alongside any of the other four suggestions.

The coin's obverse would follow Commonwealth tradition by using an updated Canadian portrait of the queen.

Europe's largest bourse draws 4,000

Approximately 4,000 people braved a late-spring snowstorm and dodged the running of the Munich marathon April 27-28 to view what was billed as Europe's largest coin bourse, the Bavarian Coin Day/Numismata '85.

The show, which is staged by Munich coin dealer Erich Modes and held in the historic, multistory Munich Lowenbrau Keller beer hall, has long been a drawing card for European and North American dealers and collectors as well as a fairly accurate barometer of the European coin market's health.

While the market as judged by the show appears relatively robust, an old situation plagued American dealers: the strong dollar kept sales down but purchases up.

"American dealers can't possibly sell many coins here anymore, with the exchange rate still around three marks to the dollar," Dennis Kroh of Empire Coins, Holly Hill, Fla., said. "But I'm busy finding nice material for my customers."

U.S. dealers occupied one table, Canadian dealers took another, and Yugoslavian, Danish, Swedish, Austrian, Swiss, Italian, English, and Spanish dealers rounded out the bourse.

Most dealers said they were satified with the business generated, although many said they were waiting for some sign of the pickup in the American-coin market spreading to Europe. The consensus was that business would improve in the fall.

The fact that several major German auctions — by Emporium Hamburg, Busso Peus, Frankfurt, Lanz/Munich, and others — were scheduled immediately before and after Numismata helped account for sales activity in higher-quality items.

However, one dealer complained that collectors were offering him material at two to three times catalog and were resisting attempts to bring prices down.

The fall version of Numismata is Oct. 12-13 at the Mathaser Hall. The 1986 Numismata will be held April 12-13, relieving pressure on Frankfurt's GIG show, sponsored by Germany's national coin club; it has traditionally been held the same weekend as the Bavarian coin day.

— REPORTED BY DAVID B. FIERO
WITH ALAN HERBERT
EUROPEAN BUREAU

The Munich Lowenbrau Keller beer hall in Munich was the site of Bavarian Coin Day/Numismata '85. The show was promoted by Munich coin dealer Erich Modes.

In its submission to the committee, the Mint said it favors the coat of arms and a parallel Olympic theme through 1988, although it did admit that tradition and numismatists would favor a continuation of the 50-year-old voyageur canoe design.

The ultimate design for the coin, if it is ever authorized, will not be decided by the Standing Estimates Committee. In fact, the committee's terms of reference do not call for any suggestions on the coin's design.

The final design recommendation will be made by the Mint to the federal cabinet, which usually accepts all Mint requests for coinage themes and designs. Since the Mint favors discontinuing the canoe, there is a strong possibility that the final curtain will fall on the popular design on this, its 50th anniversary.

Mint Master James C. Corkery has said he will listen to collector comments on whether the new dollar should carry on the famous canoe theme. He invited collectors to write to him at the Royal Canadian Mint, Sixth Floor, Tower "B", Place Vanier, 355 River Road, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada K1A 0G8.

Collectors wishing to convey their opinions to the federal cabinent, too, should also write Harvie Andre, Minister of Supply and Services, 558 Confederation Building, House of Commons, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada K1A 0A6.

What is the small number above the date on some early English coins that I have?

From about 1864 to 1879, the British Royal Mint used dies that were numbered, especially for the shilling. The number above the date is the die number.

Are the centers, or dumps, of the Prince Edward Island holey dollars scarcer than the outer rings?

J.E. Charlton, a Charlottetown merchant, discovered that the centers were overweight and thus undervalued by threepence. He gathered all that he could obtain and sent them to England to be melted down. However, the ship sank, so they lie somewhere on the bottom of the Atlantic.

What is the "zwanziggulden-fuss" referred to in the Austrian coinage?

It was a new standard of silver coin fineness introduced Nov. 7, 1750, when the .900 fine coins were reduced to .833 fine. The originals (and restrikes) of the Maria Theresa thalers were struck to this standard.

I have a gold coin that appears to be a Roman coin, although I can only find the coin minted in bronze. It is a solidus of Licinius I. Can you help?

Your coin is probably a fake, or actually a fantasy coin, since the follis from which it is copied is indeed a bronze. The forgeries apparently stemmed from Lebanon and were reported a number of years ago.

What is a "pig" rupee?

The term was applied to the 1911 Indian one rupee. The elephant on the king's robe was so crudely done that it resembled a pig, which the Indians consider unclean, causing the public to refuse to use the coin. The elephant was redesigned on the 1912 coin.

I have a coin that I think is Hungarian. It has "Bvdapest" and a 1972 date. Am I correct?

The 100-forint coin is Hungarian and commemorates the 100th anniversary of the merging of Buda and Pest into a single city. Thus, the U.S. Peace dollar is not the only coin to use a "V" for a "U" in the lettering.

What is "gedenk" money?

This is the German word used to describe commemorative coins.

Bracteats.

What is a bracteat?

The term is applied to a very thin, uniface silver coin of the type used extensively in the 12th and 13th centuries in parts of what are now Germany, Switzerland and Austria.

How long has the Paris Mint been in operation?

It began operations in 1553 and continues to the present day.

Who is credited with inventing the screw press for making coins?

Although two names are commonly mentioned — Donato Bramante (1444-1514) and da Vinci — the original may predate both, although the Italians are credited with its invention. Da Vinci invented the rolling mill, and Bramante was the first to use the screw press to strike high-relief medals.

Where does the phrase "kipper und wipperzeit" come from?

It was a slang expression from the 30 Years War. Wipper translates as the bouncing of the pan of a balance scale, and kipper as the tipping of the balance toward the heavy side — a reference to the comparison of the bad and debased coins of the period with a good coin on a money changer's scale.

Is there a second variety for the Iraqi 1932 200 fils with the denomination reading "002?"

The denomination is on the edge, and as with any coin randomly struck on a lettered-edge planchet, some of the coins have the edge inscription upside down. This is not considered a variety, just a coincidental positioning of the edge inscription when the coin was struck.

You once ran a list of the world's smallest coins; mind repeating it?

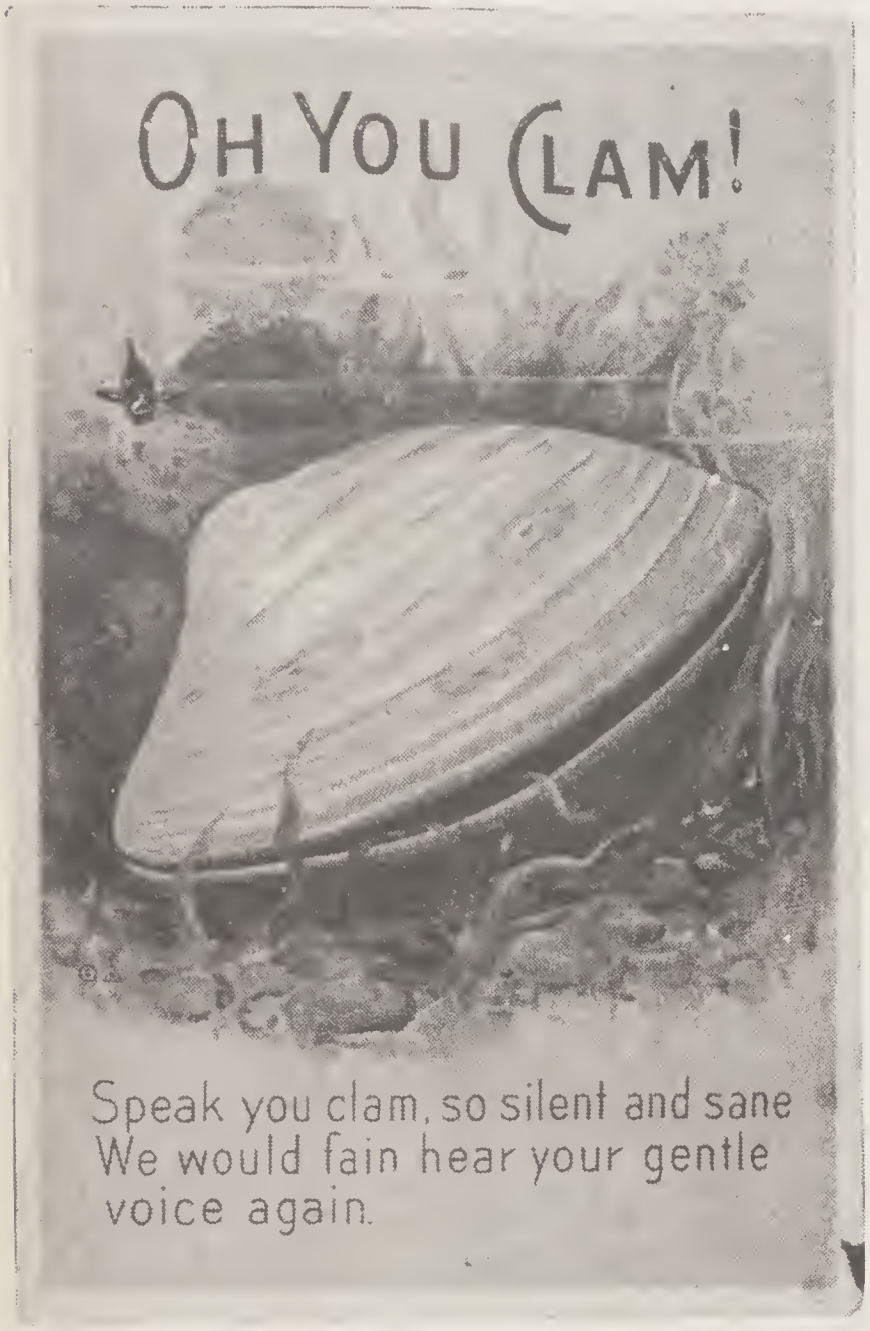
The five smallest on one list we have are the following: 1/46 stater of Ionia, sixth century B.C., gold, 3.9 millimeters; 1/4 fanam of Goa, A.D. 1185-1215, gold, four millimeters; 1/96 stater of Ionia, sixth century B.C., silver 5.1 millimeters; 1/8 obol of Ionia, fifth century B.C., silver, 5.5 millimeters; and the 1/32 rupee of Mysore, India, A.D. 1217-1222, silver, 5.5 millimeters. By comparison, the "Panama Pill" (2½ centesimos of 1904) measures a whopping 10 millimeters.

What's the smallest copper coin?

The same list gives a one cash of Travencore, India, minted from 1885 to 1895. Its diameter is 7.9 millimeters — good for 14th place overall.

What is a Spanish royal coin?

A royal was a coin especially struck for the ruler, on a carefully prepared, round planchet struck with special care so the entire design sppears on the planchet. These coins of the pre-collar era of coin manufacturing might be considered the forerunners of today's specimen or proof coins.



No one ever accused us of clamming up or for that matter being too sane! However, we continue to tell the world foreign coins are great. We were dealing in "Y" coins when there was only the brown book. Our ads in the old "World Coins", a magazine, were well received. So with our not so gentle voice we remind you collecting foreign coins is fun.

Below we have a nice selection of World Gold & in our New Purchase section, along with many nice items, you will find a partial listing of an extensive Philippine collection.

Part of one of the great British coin finds, this Henry IV noble from the Pulham hoard will be sold by Christie's May 28.

Pulham-hoard sale set for London

The Pulham hoard, 100 nobles and half nobles from the reigns of Edward III, Henry IV, Henry V, and Henry VI, will be sold by Christie's at 11 a.m. May 28 in the firm's London showroom.

The coins were found in May and June 1983 by Simon Drake, who uncovered the coins while plowing a barley field. The hoard is the first find of this size since 1929, when 64 gold nobles were unearthed at Horsted Keynes, Sussex.

auctions

While the catalog's introduction to the hoard notes that, "For the most part, the coins can be paralleled elsewhere," it also states that "some notable rarities are present."

They include a Henry IV heavy-coinage noble, predictably clipped but relatively unworn. The mostly very fine piece carries French arms, saltire stops on both sides, and a £4,000-£4,500 estimate.

Other noteworthy lots of Henry IV include a London half noble with pellet-topped castles and a slipped trefoil (£6,000-£7,000 estimate). It is slightly bent though better than fine and one of two examples known.

Three fine/very fine pellet-and-castle nobles will also be offered; they carry estimates from £1,100 to £1,500. Two of the pieces have the rare slipped-trefoil-in-second-quarter reverse.

A Henry V class-B very fine noble will be spotlighted along with a very fine, possibly unpublished class-E/D noble mule and a very fine class-F/G mule.

Three transitional pieces, a mule noble with a Henry V obverse and a Henry VI reverse, will be sold as part of the hoard, along with several late Calais- and York-struck nobles, a rosette-mascle/pinecone-mascle mule and a late pinecone-mascle issue.

Catalogs include a history of the hoard, indexes and percentage breakdowns, maps, diagrams, and illustrations. They are available from Christie's, 8 King St., St. James', London SW1Y 6QT, England.

Journals featured in Kolbe book sale

Complete bound copies of The Numismatist and the American Journal of Numismatics will be offered along with scores of rare books and catalogs from famous personal numismatic libraries June 4-5 at George Frederick Kolbe's auction No. 21, to be held at 23218 Crestline Road, Crestline, Calif.

umes from the Abe Kosoff, Armand Champa and Richard Picker libraries. The second day's sale features a variety of foreign, ancient, and medieval numismatic reference material.

Notable early lots include E.J. Attinelli's Numisgraphics, a remarkably lucid outline of late-19th-century numismatics, and Abe Kosoff's salesroom copy of the King Farouk auction catalog. The American-coin portion of the latter is extensively annotated and coded, giving a glimpse of some the the intrigue behind the sale. The catalog carries a $750 estimate.

Among the books on silver and gold coins slated to be sold is an original edition of A.W. Browning's The Early Quarter Dollars of the United States 1796-1838. One annotated and interleaved and two annotated copies of Adams and Woodin's United States Pattern, Trial and Experimental Pieces from Kosoff's library are also featured.

Paper-money books in the auction include one of the 50 large-paper sets of Henry Phillips' Historical Sketches of the Paper Currency of the American Colonies. The two-volume set is from the Armand Champa library and carries a $750 estimate.

The sale's highest pre-sale estimates belong to bound volumes of the American Journal of Numismatics and The Numismatist. The former consists of the publication's entire 52-volume run except for the first two parts of the final volume. The volumes, from the George Merryweather library, carry a $4,000 estimate.

Two different sets of The Numismatist are being offered: A virtually complete, original set of the first six volumes and a complete set of the first 92 volumes with the 1963 reprint of volumes 1-6. The 92-volume set carries a $2,000 estimate, while the six-volume set is expected to bring at least $3,000.

Nothing of that sort is expected for the foreign-coin-literature portion of the sale, though several volumes carry large estimates.

Among the more interesting works are a collection of cigar-box labels depicting coins and medals, copies of the Numismatic Chronicle from 1895-1970, Abe Kosoff's personal presentation copy of the 1970 Standard Catalog of World Coins, five volumes of Robertson's Roman Imperial Coins in the Hunter

Roman Imperial Coins in the Hunter Coin Cabinet, and a variety of European auction catalogs.

A 10 percent buyer's premium will be in effect. Catalogs are available from George Frederick Kolbe, P.O. Drawer 1610A, Crestline, Calif. 92325.

Ancients excel in April auction

Many of the big lots didn't sell, but otherwise prices generally came in above pre-sale estimates for a variety of ancient Greek, Roman and Byzantine coins April 11-12 at Frank Sternberg and Giorgio Apparutti's Zurich auction.

Among the high-priced lots that failed to find buyers were a very fine Athena-head Thurium distater ($6,800 estimate), an extremely fine unlisted early Macedonian tetradrachm ($5,000 estimate), a fleur-de-coin aureus of Vespasian ($6,800), a double sestertius of Herennia Etruscilla in about extremely fine ($3,500), and a antoninianus of Dryantilla, described as the finest known example from this obscure Roman figure ($5,150).

However, realizations from the lots that did sell were healthy enough to overshadow the unsold lots.

Most Greek-world coins sold for anywhere from estimate to 10 percent more than estimate, led by a large silver Deronian coin with an oxen obverse and a three-legged reverse. The very fine piece, perhaps the finest known example, brought $12,800 against an $11,500 estimate.

In addition, an almost uncirculated Thracian octadrachm brought $8,800 against a $7,800 estimate, a Phoenician stater from Melos brought $12,200 against a $18,000 estimate, an extremely fine tetradrachm of the Aegean king Mithradates VI sold for $250 above a $2,200 estimate, and a drachm of Poseidon sold for $2,650 against a $1,400 estimate.

A more diverse Roman-coin section, consisting of 22 aes grave, 78 Roman senatorial issues, 38 Roman-republic coins, and 488 imperial Roman coins and medals, brought a wider range of realizations above and below estimates.

The top-selling aes grave was a quarunx from Ariminum, Umbria, which realized $3,600 against a $2,900 estimate. Other aes grave came in about 5 percent above estimates but sold for $200-$1,000.

The best-selling Roman-imperial coins were large pieces of well-known rulers and anything from relatively obscure figures. For example, an almost extremely fine aureus of Titus sold for

$7,700 against a $4,400 estimate, a high-relief, finest-known sestertius of Vitellius sold for $5,000 more than a $7,100 estimate, and an extremely fine denarius of Gordianius Africanus sold for $2,880 against a $1,500 estimate.

The sale's highest-priced piece also carried the highest pre-sale estimate. A medallion of Commodus featuring a soldier with lance and trophy was expected to sell for $15,000 but brought $16,500 in almost very fine.

It was followed closely by a sestertius of Pertinax, which brought $15,400 against a $12,200 estimate.

Apparutti's contribution to the sale was 139 lots of Italian-states coins. Standout lots included an eighth-century tremissis of Liutprando from Pavia, Lombardy, which sold for $640 more than a $900 estimate in fleur de coin, and an extremely fine 1593 piastra of Fierenze's Fernando I de Medici, which brought $800 against a $500 estimate.

Prices include a 10 percent buyer's premium. Catalogs include prices realized and are available from Frank Sternberg, Bahnofstrasse 84, CH-8001 Zurich, Switzerland.

EGYPT

In ancient Egypt, female figures were carved on the temple walls They played a very important role in Egypt's day to day life Artists known as the Orientalists were obsessed by the imaginative erotic fantasies of the East They show Middle Eastern women in their paint ings in harems and as slaves In modern times, Egyptian women beside being mothers, have achievements in politics, science, arts, education, etc Woman is new symbol of modern Egypt as reflected in many coins

Mexican rarities top Ponterio sale

Seventeenth-century four escudos, proclamations and supposedly the finest group of 20th-century Mexican coins ever auctioned will be sold June 8 in Los Angeles at Ponterio and Associates' sale of Mexican coins from the Porraz collection.

The sale begins with 134 lots of Mexican gold, including the sale's highest-priced coins and some lower-priced rarities.

Two coins with five-figure estimates appear in the first 15 lots, led by the sale's first lot, a good very fine 1732-F four escudos. The date is missing from the Munoz and Norweb collection; according to Ponterio, the specimen is the first to appear on the market since 1976. It carries a $15,000-$20,000 estimate.

Thirteen lots later a 1747-MF four escudos will be offered. Fewer than five specimens are known; the extremely fine Porraz-collection coin carries a $15,000-$20,000 estimated price tag.

Among the lower-priced rare-date pieces offered are an 1816-JJ two escudos in fine/very fine, an about uncirculated 1818-JJ half escudo and a very fine 1861-Mo-CH four escudos.

More than 165 lots of colonial crowns and minors will follow, with the emphasis on dated cobs, pillars and portraits. Most of the common-date coins in this section are in higher grades. Standouts include a very good 1732 half real without an assayer's mark and a repaired, fine 1733-MX-F 1733 one real.

The lots of Iturbide, Maximilian and republic coinage slated to follow include 11 patterns and an uncirculated 1864 one centavo. The sharply struck red-and-brown piece retains much of its mint luster and carries a $1,000-$1,250 estimate.

The section also includes a very fine 1866-Ca-JC eight reales and a number of large lots of coppers and minor silver pieces.

High-grade, scarce-date minors comprise much of the 156-lot section of 20th-century Mexican coins. Among the key coins slated to be sold are an uncirculated 1916 one centavo, a brilliant uncirculated 1905 two centavos, an about uncirculated 1922 two centavos, two uncirculated 1912 five centavos, and an uncirculated 1908 20 centavos.

Proclamations close out the sale, highlighted by a 1789 medal issued for East Florida. The piece is described as extremely rare and highly important and carries a $3,000-$5,000 estimate.

Illustrated auction catalogs include prices realized and are $5 from Ponterio and Associates, P.O. Box 33588, San Diego, Calif. 92103.

VIETNAM

By Peter H. Vennema

On Jan. 27, 1973, an agreement was reached in Paris for the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam. The "peace with honor" agreement brought an end to U.S. involvement in the war and, as it turned out, signaled the beginning of the end for South Vietnam as an independent entity.

At the same time, the National Bank of Vietnam was making plans for what was long thought to be the last coin of South Vietnam, a 10-dong United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization issue of 1974 (Y-13). Throughout the planning stages for the 10 dong, the South Vietnamese currency unit was declining in value, from an offical exchange rate of 118 to the dollar in 1973 to a special exchange rate of 400 to the dollar in 1974, to 700 dong to the dollar — insofar as there was any demand for dong — in early 1975.

By April 21, 1975, conditions in the South were chaotic. President Nguyen Van Thieu resigned, leaving the government in the hands of Gen. Duong Van Minh. On April 30, Saigon fell.

A provisional revolutionary government was formed in the South by the triumphant communist forces. A new provisional dong was issued, equivalent to 500 old South Vietnamese dong. A provisonal coinage was also issued (Y-8 through Y-11) to facilitate the exchange.

These xu-denominated coins were for use only in the South, were in circulation for a limited time, and are now obsolete. As a limited issue, they may well turn out to be scarcer than the North Vietnamese issue of 1958, which may still circulate.

The obsolescence of this last southern issue is explained by subsequent events: a North-South reunification agreement was reached in November 1975, and the Unified Socialist Republic of Vietnam came into being July 2, 1976. This was seemingly the unequivical end of South Vietnamese coinage, including the provisional southern dong. It was exchanged at a rate of .8 to the unified dong, equivalent to the old North Vietnamese unit. The provisional coins, therefore, circulated for only about one year before being demonetized. A new coin issue in unified hao and dong values (Y-11 to Y-14) was produced in 1976 to circulate along with the North Vietnamese xu of 1958 (Y-5 to Y-7).

Matters rested there until the 1983 edition of the Standard Catalog of World Coins. Most Vietnamese-coin collectors were surprised to find a 1975 50-dong coin (Y-14) with a healthy $1,000 price tag added to the South Vietnamese listing.

All that seemed to be known about the coin was its design and inscriptions: obverse, "Viet-Nam Cong-hoa" (Republic of Vietnam), "50 dong," "Ngan-Hang Quoc-Gia Viet-Nam" (National Bank of Vietnam); reverse, two peasants planting rice, surrounded by "Tang-Gia San-Huat Nong-Pham" ("Augment production of agricultural products") and "1975." The inscription resembled that of the 1974 10-dong coin, seemingly implying an FAO issue. The coin also bore a general design resemblance to the earlier issue, though struck in cupronickel-clad steel rather than brass-clad steel.

With the help of the FAO, the British Royal Mint, and British dealer Peter Ireland (Format) Ltd., I have been able to augment that catalog description with perhaps all that will ever be known about this coin.

At about the time of the 1973 Paris agreement, the National Bank of Vietnam formulated plans for a four-coin FAO series, each coin showing a subsequent stage in rice production. The 1974 issue was the first of these projected coins.

In September 1974, perhaps feeling the need for a larger-denomination coin due to the dong's rapid depreciation, the national bank ordered a 50-dong FAO issue from the British Royal Mint. The 1975-dated coin was to be ready by the end of 1974. Mintage of the cupronickel-clad-steel coin was to be 50 million; it would weigh five grams and have a diameter of 26 millimeters.

After 10 years, the confusion lingers

There was a delay while the coins were modeled in the Royal Mint Engraving Department; the national bank requested alterations as well. A sample piece was not approved until March 1975. By then, the situation in Saigon was deteriorating, and the mint was not altogether sure it was sensible to continue work on the order. However, a large quantity of blanks had been received from a subcontractor, and with the first shipment of coins due to leave the mint in May, the mint chose a middle ground; it proceeded cautiously, striking a small initial quanitity of the coins.

Hardly had 1.01 million pieces been struck when the mint learned sailings to Saigon had been suspended. Specimens of the coin were preserved for the Royal Mint collection; the rest were disposed of as scrap metal.

The story then veers into the realm of speculation. Three specimens turned up in a large lot of foreign coins produced by Peter Ireland. All three of the pieces showed traces of rust, especially on the reeded edge, as if the coins had been exposed to the elements for a time. This suggests that somebody may have spirited the coins from the scrap heap in hopes of selling them to a dealer. Some dealer probably mistook them for common modern issues and threw them into a junk box; from there they may have passed into the lot of mixed foreign coins purchased by Ireland. The balance of the shipment was probably melted as scrap in due course.

Of the three coins which have surfaced to date, one was sold to an Australian dealer, a second appeared in last year's Hong Kong Money Co. auction and a third has found its way, however ironically, to America, the country whose history was so profoundly shaped by the Vietnamese conflict.

While it is possible that other specimens may surface — though none have in the nearly 10 years since its issue — it appears the 50 dong will be an extremely rare piece, with only a fortunate few collectors able to add it to a truly complete collection of Vietnamese coins.

As a result of my research into the coinage of this period I can suggest several improvements in the catalog listing. The 1975 50 dong should be identified as an FAO issue, mintage of 1.01 million, three known, the balance probably melted. The 1975-76 xu issues should be clearly identified as provisional issues for the south, now obsolete, unrelated to the dong of Unified Socialist Vietnam, with which they are now listed.

Finally, as unofficial historian of the Y-14, I may be contacted through this publication and would welcome any information on the location of known specimens, additional specimens, or on their provenance. ■

70mm Chopin medal struck

One of the more imposing recent medals, a 70-millimeter piece saluting the 175th anniversary of Frederic Chopin's birth has been designed and struck by internationally acclaimed artist Leon S. Kawecki. The high-relief obverse depicts Chopin, while the reverse bears an allegorical Polish maiden, "The soul of the nation." Mintage is 250 in bronze and 50 in .999-fine silver. (Leon S. Kawecki, P.O. Box 46, Buena Park, Calif. 90621.)

In an effort to provide more accurate, up-to-date information on price changes in the Canadian coin market, Michael Findlay has inaugurated a biweekly price guide, the Canadian Coin Report. The report lists bid and ask prices for proof gold, key-date coins, bullion-related issues, rolls, type coins, dollars and early gold pieces. Several categories are further broken down by condition. Single-issue price is $2.50; one year's subscription is $50. (Canadian Coin Dealer Newsletter, P.O. Box 37, Station A, Toronto, Ontario M5W 1A2, Canada.)

Hungary, following Singapore's lead, has released a color catalog, "The Legal Tenders of Hungary," depicting all coins and bank notes issued since 1949. The catalog includes specifications, photographs of varieties, and descriptions in a number of languages. (Magyar Nemzeti Bank, Department of Issue, 1850 Budapest, Hungary.)

The latest European medal being distributed by Medacoin International marks the 1985 Alpine Skiing Championship. The piece has been struck by the Milano Mint in .750-fine, 18-karat gold, .925-fine silver and bronze. Its obverse shows the official championship symbol, and its reverse depicts skiiers in action. Mintages are 3,000 for the gold, 10,000 for the silver and 30,000 for the bronze. (Medacoin International, 421 E. Carson St., Suite 189, Las Vegas, Nev. 89101.)

The Hawaiian Mint has issued its first officially authorized piece, marking the 100th anniversary of the Kanyaku Imin, Japanese immigrants to Hawaii. The coin has been struck in .999 fine gold and silver as well as bronze. Mintages are 10,000 for the silver and 250 for the gold. (The Hawaiian Mint, 210 Koula, Honolulu, Hawaii.)

In addition, the Congress of Russian Americans is selling a 77-millimeter medal marking the 1,000th year of Christianity in Russia. The piece features the Russian saint/king Vladimir and has been struck in bronze, silver-plated bronze and gold-plated bronze. (Congress of Russian Americans, P.O. Box 818, Nyack, N.Y. 10960.)

Serge Huard's latest trade dollars include a piece marking his membership in the Canadian Association of Wooden Money Collectors and a 1985 Canadian Numismatic Society commemorative. (Serge Huard, P.O. Box 402, Pointe-aux-Trembles, Quebec H1B 5K3, Canada.)

The Royal Canadian Mint has also issued a trade dollar, this one for Ottawa, Ontario. The obverse has a guardsman of the Governor-General's foot guard, and the reverse carries a large maple leaf. Approximately 125,000 specimens were struck on 33-millimeter nickel blanks. (Canada's Capital Visitors and Convention Bureau, 7th Floor, 222 Queen St., Ottawa, Ontario K1P 5V9, Canada.)

In dealer news, the latest buy list for a broad assortment of 19th-century and 20th-century gold and silver coins has been published by International World. The 40-page list includes prices for coins in a variety of grades as well as precious-metals content and purity. The publication is published three times a year; subscriptions are $35. calendar

The computerized Calendar provides listings of reported coin shows, educational forums, and similar events arranged by region and date. Contact addresses, the projected number of tables, and the fees charged for tables, as that information is available, is printed the first time a listing is incorporated in the Calendar, then repeated quarterly thereafter in the fourth issues of February, May, August, and November; the numeric sequence appearing on the last line of repeated listings indicates the issue in which the complete listing appeared (0728, for example, is July 28). Listings include all events scheduled within five weeks of the issue date; major events published one year in advance; others appear initially in the first issue following submission. Abbreviations used: A — admission charge; T — number of tables; F — table fee; N/A — not available; ‡ — commercially sponsored show or event sponsored by a club scheduling more than two events annually. Other data required for listing: name and address of show site, and the name and address of the bourse chairman or other contact person.

USUAL MAIL BID RULES

1. Bid by lot, not by piece. Lots are not to be broken without permission of seller.
2. No buyer or unlimited bids accepted. (A buy bid is when a bidder tells an auctioneer to buy the lot for him at reasonable cost over highest bidder.)
3. Postage and insurance will be added to invoices.
4. No commission to be charged by seller. The high bid represents the maximum selling price of a lot.
5. Terms: Cash upon receipt of invoice — invoice to be mailed by seller within 10 days after closing date of the sale.
6. Mail Bid Sales will close 10 days from date of publication of World Coin News unless otherwise stated by seller.
7. Seller may require a deposit to be sent with bids as a guarantee that high bidder will honor his bids. It is not returnable if high bidder fails to honor his bids (unless excused by seller). It shall be used as a partial payment on successful bids. Any deposit requirement will be clearly stated in the seller's advertisement. Unsuccessful bidders will have their deposits returned within 3 days following the closing date of the sale.
8. Improperly described lots must be postmarked for return within 5 days after receipt. Errors in bidding are the responsibility of the buyer.
9. Exceptions to any of the above rules must be stated in the seller's advertisement.
10. A Mail Bid Sale is not an unrestricted sale unless so stated by the seller. The seller has the right to reject a bid for any reason whatsoever.
